“ Real sorry to learn of Gail passing away. I got reacquainted with Gail when visiting with my aunt Nellie. Had not seen Gail in many years because of military service and later living in Indiana. He is now resting in eternal peace.

“ Danny, Dale, David and Family, Im so sorry for your loss. Uncle Gail will be greatly missed. Some of the best times were spent with y'all when we came to visit Grandma & Grandpa. I still sit and think about Grandpa, my dad Glen, Uncle Gail, and Uncle Paul sitting under the tree next to the highway watching traffic and knowing every single person driving by while drinking coffee all day while we were either playing ball or down in the woods playing around. May God Bless each and everyone. RIP Uncle Gail, I'll see ya on the other side.

“ My name is Wayne Unger. Gail Chastine was my uncle. His sister was Veda Unger my adopted mother. He was a great man and a wonderful person to be around. I had the pleasure of going back to Missouri most every summer and spend time with all of my relatives. He took me fishing and out into the woods to collect Indian arrowheads. When he was a young man he wanted to be a professional baseball player. It didn't pay much back then but he wanted to marry my Aunt Wilma. She was a wonderful too and worked at a Piggly Wiggly store back then. He chose to marry and raise a family instead. When Aunt Wilma passed he was fortunate enough to meet another wonderful woman to share his life with. I know that he was happy. He worked for a radiator shop when I was young and was a true craftsman in the automotive industry. I remember that he loved black Walnut ice cream and trust me we shared some almost every night I was on vacation there. He was a loving caring person that shared his love of our Lord with me. Although I haven't been in Missouri for many years I thought of him and his sons often. He made me laugh with his sharp wit and humor. The world was truly a better place with him in it. He will be sorely missed. He was the last of my aunt and uncles that have moved onto heaven. He will be greeted there with open arms and deep loving affection. I am blessed to have known him and always strived to be a man like he was. He would have fed you if you were hungry and clothed you if you were cold. He will be missed by all that knew him.
