

Andrew Kent Smith

August 25, 1968 - July 24, 2014

Services: 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 16, Montgomery-Viets Funeral Home of Buffalo. Burial in Hopewell Cemetery, Tunas.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to the Humane Society of the United States, action.humanesociety.org.

Andrew "Kent" Smith, 45, was born Aug. 25, 1968, in Springfield. He died July 24, 2014, at his home in Orlando, Fla.

He moved to Florida and spent many happy years with family and friends working for Ticketmaster and Mickey Mouse in the city he loved.

He had a passion for life and loved his friends and family. He was "Uncle Kent" to so many.

He loved his four-legged friends and they loved him. He was an avid sports fan, especially the Tampa Rays and Dallas Cowboys, but had a special place in his heart for NASCAR. His greatest love aside from his family and friends was Walt Disney World; he was the biggest kid ever.

Survivors include his grandma, Eloise Stidham, Buffalo; his father, Eddie Smith, Iowa; a brother, Colby Davison, Buffalo; his "soul sister," Lisa Engelhardt, Orlando, Fla.; a "soul niece," Vianna Engelhardt, Orlando, Fla.; and many other family members.
