“ I was very close to my little sister when we were kids. We hung out and laughed and loved each other for who we were. Adulthood separated us but our love for each other never wavered. She was my sister and my friend and I will miss her terribly til we meet again.

“ So many things ran through my mind when you told us you had cancer. I wanted to take it away and make it all better for you. This last year we had a lot of meaningful talks with each visit. A lot of regrets from our younger days as young women. The past is gone sis but I have so many good memories to hold on to. And reminisce of the times you made me laugh until I cried. I'll miss you until we meet again Sister.
