Robert Owen Wood, 64, was born Aug. 22, 1947, in Denver, Colo., the son of Donald and Ester (Fulford) Wood. He died April 1, 2012, at his home in Buffalo.

He was united in marriage with Janet K. Wood, on May 14, 1988. They were each other's best friend.

He was a retired precision sheetmetal engineer with Ball Aerospace where he worked for over 20 years. He took great pride in having worked on the Hubbell Spacecraft project.

He loved fishing whenever he could, and he trained and showed Tennessee walking horses for several years.

He was baptized into the family of Christ on Feb. 6, 2006, and was a member of the Calvary Chapel Free Will Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Janet; a daughter, Debbie Wood, Berthoud, Colo.; a stepson, Alan Pancratz, Aurora, Colo.; and two cousins: Douglas Wood, Oregon, and Mark Wood, California.
